President's Report & the Dutch National Hockey team

Dear Members.

Another month has gone by and we have again seen some really exciting functions.

I was fortunate enough to be attending the first Seniors' meeting of the year, together with my Parents, who were in Perth on holidays. During this event, we had the pleasure of welcoming the new RDC chef Armanda and her kitchen staff.

The lunch that Armanda had prepared for this meeting was very well received by the Members, whilst her dessert of vanilla crème brûlées was definitely a show stopper.

Neerlandia Members have also had the opportunity to attend the Australia - Nederland Hockey match. This was very well attended with Neerlandia selling over 70 tickets to our Members and their guests.

I am also very pleased to advise you that Neerlandia now has orange T-shirts with the

The Dutch Hockey team players with Neerlandia supporters in the background.

Club's logo for sale. If you are interested in obtaining such a shirt, please contact your Committee representatives. Both adult- and kids' sizes are available.

I am looking forward to finally having our first "Maas and Waal Borrel" for the year on Friday 23rd of February.

It has been a while since we last saw each other. Have a great time at the Club this month.

Take care,

Eric van Waaijenburg,
President.

The KookHoek & Ditjes and Datjes

Summer Chicken and Pineapple Salad.

Whilst the summer is still here and it is more than likely that we can expect some more warm days, we don't want to slave over a hot stove.

This salad ticks all the boxes for me.

On its own, for lunch or as a side dish for the barbie.

Smakelijk eten!

Ingredients:

- ..# 2 roasted chicken breasts.
- ..# 1/2 small can of diced or 1/2 fresh pineapple.
- ..# 1 stick celery.
- ..# 1 red capsicum.
- ..# 100 gr beansprouts.
- ..# 2 tablespoons raisins.
- ..# 1/2 cup walnuts.
- ..# 2 table spoons yoghurt.
- ..# 1 teaspoon curry powder.
- ..# Salt to taste.
- ..# 1 small bag mixed salad leaves.
- ..# 1 cup cherry tomatoes.

Method:

- ..# Dice the chicken, celery and capsicum into small pieces.
- ..# Add the beansprouts, raisins and walnuts.
- ..# Make a dressing with the yoghurt, curry powder, pepper and salt to taste.
- ..# Toss the chicken mixture slightly in the yoghurt dressing.
- ..# Put the salad leaves on a serving platter and place the chicken salad on top.
- ..# Garnish with cherry tomatoes.

Note:

Sliced cucumber and hard boiled eggs are good additions.

For a sharper taste add finely chopped chilli or a little sambal oelek to the dressing.

Neerlandia Members Inge and Euan became proud parents of Ayla, who was born on 12th January 2018.

On behalf of all of us at Neerlandia, we wish the new parents and their baby daughter a happy and prosperous future together.

GEZOCHT / LOOKING FOR.

Neerlandia received the following request for assistance:

Good morning, I am preparing a genealogical book about the family "de Niet", who are living in Perth, Australia. Maybe Members of your Club or Community can assist me. Can I ask them for their help?

Thanking you,
Frans van Min, Den Haag.

As we believe that Neerlandia can play a role in this sort of requests we decided to satisfy Frans' request and publish it both on our FaceBook page and in the March issue of our Neerlandia Magazine.

Can you help? Are you related to family "de Niet" from the Netherlands? Have you met or do you know a family "de Niet"?

If so, please contact Frans van Min directly on vanmin@ziggo.nl

Thank you! Frans.

Stuff Dutch People Like

"Stuff Dutch People Like" is a column written by a foreign correspondent living in the Netherlands. This amusing column observes the Dutch in their everyday life. We hope that you enjoy reading "Stuff Dutch People Like" as much as we do. The blog is available via the internet.

Equal Rights for Dogs.

Life is good for 'man's best friend' in the lowlands. In fact, Dutch dogs lead an extraordinarily charmed life, enjoying rights, privileges and luxuries not normally afforded to their furry friends in English speaking Countries.

Not sure what I speak of? Just take a look around and you will find Dutch dogs living large! Why strut the streets when you can have free access to excellent public transportation (think buses, trams, metros, etc.)? Looking to see more of the world? You're in luck, as Dutch doggies can ride the trains for an affordable 3 euros/day!

Dutch dogs also need never spend a lonely night at home, as they can head on over to the local pub or restaurant. Yes, believe it or not, canines are allowed to wine and dine in the vast majority of the Netherlands's restaurants, shops, bars, pubs and cafés! It is not an unusual sight to see a furry friend munching on some grub at the next table over.

If all this sounds like madness, you are not alone. Many an expat, tourist (and even a Dutchie) can be heard grumbling over the omnipresence of dogs in the lowlands (and of course, we do sympathize with those with allergies...).

A line has to be drawn somewhere, and it seems the entry rights of Dutch doggies have been denied to the lowland's many cultural entities. Rest assured you will be able to enjoy a dazzling Van Gogh or Rembrandt without a wagging tail smacking your leg in enjoyment.

Dutch dogs have many a talent and are as skilled as their owners in the realm of bike-riding. Whether they occupy shotgun (the coveted front basket), the back seat (sweet-heart style), or are tucked neatly in a saddle bag, these doggies can be found cruising the canals in a typical laid-back Dutch style.

Who ever coined the phrase, "It's a dog's life", certainly had not lived a day in the life of a Dutch dog!

Formally Known as Dutch Aged Care. (DACWA)

Beat the Heat - Summer Tips for Seniors.

Dehydration is a common heat-related condition which can be serious, even fatal. It is important to keep the body hydrated by regularly sipping on water throughout the day. Health authorities recommend a person should ideally drink two litres of water per day.

Stay out of the sun although the beach is tempting on a hot summer's day, you should avoid direct sun exposure where you can; particularly Seniors.

Try to stay in cool, shaded or breezy areas, take regular breaks from the sun and keep your home air-conditioned. It is also important to remember heat stress can strike at any time, even cloudy days, so avoiding extremely warm environments is strongly advised.

Protective clothing when planning a day outside in the sun, it is important to wear suitable clothing for the weather condition.

If you are wearing full coverage clothing to protect your skin, avoid over heating by ensuring the material is lightweight and light-coloured. Seniors' eyes tend to be more sensitive to sunlight, therefore it is important to wear UV-filtering sunglasses to avoid damage. And don't forget your sun hat!

Sunscreen, please don't leave the house without it. Sunscreen contains sun protection factors (SPF), which protects your skin from harmful UV rays and decreases your chance of sunburn and skin cancers. It is also a good idea to invest in a daily moisturiser with an SPF of at least 30+.

Be activity smart, according to the "Sun Safely Alliance," the sun is at its strongest during the hours of 10am-4pm, so it is not a good idea to plan strenuous activities while the temperature and UV rays are soaring. Think up some fun activities to beat the heat during this time, such as heading to an air-conditioned shopping centre or gaining access to a swimming pool. Save the long walks for early mornings or evenings, when the temperature has cooled down. If you are concerned for yourself or a loved one, please seek medical advice.

Do you need support to be able to stay at home?

Community Aged Care and the way to access has changed a lot since 2015 and it can be difficult and confusing for elderly people and their families to know what needs to be done.

While the “Myagedcare” website can help to navigate your way through this maze, we know that not everyone has access to the internet.

If you do not have access, you can phone “Myagedcare.”

Free call: 1800 200 422

If you do have access to a computer, please search for:

www.myagedcare.gov.au

With the new system in place, many providers have experienced that people are waiting too long, to have an Aged Care Assessment done.

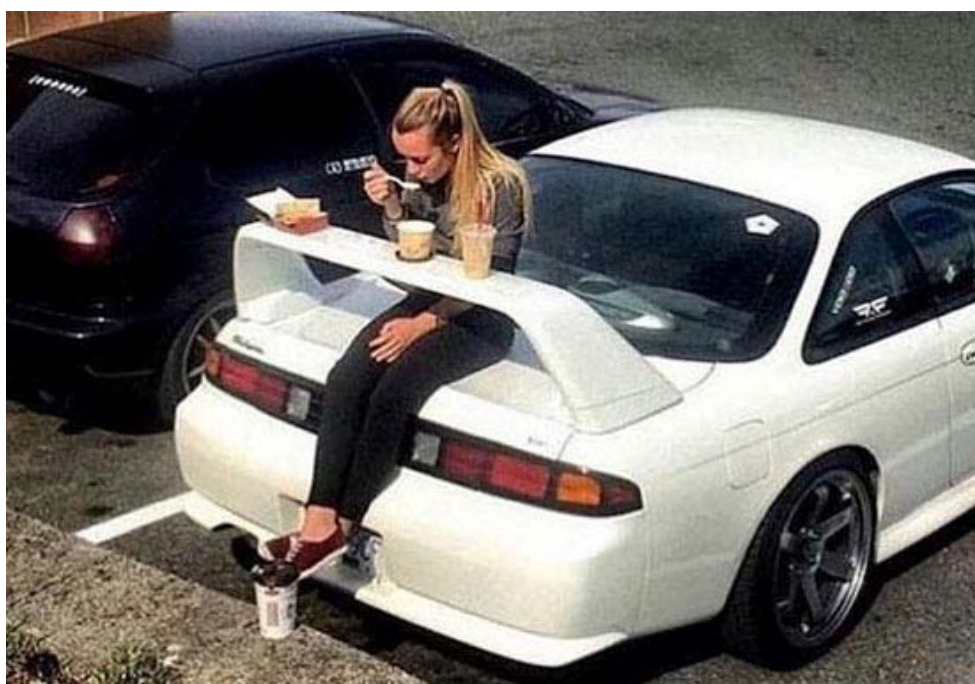

Please, do not wait until you find it difficult to support yourself. The waiting time to have a Home Care Package assigned can be a year or more.

To receive a Government funded package you need to be assessed by the Aged Care Assessment Team (ACAT). If the ACAT approved your eligibility for a level 1, 2, 3 or 4, you will be automatically placed in the national queue. Once you reached the top of the queue you will receive a letter confirming that a package is assigned to you. This letter will include a unique referral code that you will have to give to the service provider of your choice.

If you like more information how to access services, please feel free to contact us.

Consumer Lunch at Miss Maud.

After a long time, we finally had another get-together again. Those Clients who have been with us for many years, still remember the fun-times, when we were located at the Neerlandia Clubhouse.

It was so much easier to organise functions there, because of the big hall but also the funding at the time was different. So, we could take money out of the “big pot” and spoil everybody.

Since July 2015 every Provider has to provide support under Consumer directed Care, which involves a different way of funding. Each Client has their own budget and a Provider needs to provide a statement at the end of each month.

Many of our Clients have a high amount of unspent funds sitting in their budget. Even though our Coordinators and Support Workers are always encouraging our Clients to use more support or to get the right equipment to make life easier, the funding accumulates very quick.

When we asked different Consumers what they missed most from the “old Days”, those who have been with us for 6 or more years said that it was the social get-togethers. So in November we started calling all Clients to see if there was interest in having lunch together.

It was nice to see how straightaway many Clients said “yes please, great idea”; and new Clients too expressed interest in such a social event.

It was nice to see how many Clients straightaway said “yes please, great idea”; it came from the new Clients too.

A big “Thank you” to Claus from Miss Maud, who always gives us a special price so that we can afford to not only take our Support Workers and Volunteers out to be spoiled, but now also our Clients.

Regine.

CURA in-Home Care Newsletter

Will our future world be like this?

An interesting talk by the Head of Daimler Benz.

In a recent interview, the Head of Daimler Benz (Mercedes Benz etc. etc.) said their competitors are no longer other car companies, but Tesla (obviously), and now, Google, Apple, Amazon 'et al' are encroaching. Software will disrupt most traditional industries in the next 5-10 years.

The biggest taxi company in the world does not own any cars.

Uber is just a software tool, they don't own any cars and are now the biggest taxi company in the world; Airbnb is now the biggest hotel company in the world, although they don't own any properties.

Artificial Intelligence: Computers become exponentially better in understanding the world. This year, a computer beat the best Go player in the world, 10 years earlier than expected.

In the U.S., young lawyers already can't get jobs. Because of IBM's Watson, you can get legal advice (so far for more or less basic stuff) within seconds, with 90% accuracy compared with 70% accuracy, when done by humans. So, if you study law, stop immediately. There will be 90% less lawyers in the future, only specialists will remain.

Watson already helps nurses diagnosing cancer, 4 times more accurate than human nurses.

Facebook now has a pattern recognition software that can recognize faces better than humans. In 2030, computers will become more intelligent than humans.

Autonomous cars: In 2018 the first self-driving cars will appear for the public. Around 2025, the complete industry will start to be disrupted. You won't want to own a car anymore. You will call a car with your phone, it will show up at your location and drive you to your destination. You will not need to park it, you only pay for the driven distance and you can be productive while driving. Our kids will never get a driver's license and will never own a car. It will change the Cities, because we will need 90-95% less cars for that. We can transform former parking spaces into parks.

1.2 million people die each year in car accidents worldwide. We now have one accident every 60,000 miles (100,000 km), with autonomous driving that will drop to one accident in 6 million miles (10 million km). That will save a million lives each year.

Most car companies will probably go bankrupt. Traditional car companies will try the traditional approach and try to build a better car,while tech companies (Tesla, Apple, Google) will take the revolutionary approach and build a computer on wheels.

Many engineers from Volkswagen and Audi are completely terrified of Tesla; auto Insurance companies will have massive trouble because without accidents, car insurance will become much cheaper. Their car insurance business model will slowly disappear.

Real estate: This will change. Because if you can work while you commute, people will move further away to live in a more beautiful neighbourhood.

Electric cars will become mainstream about 2020. Cities will be less noisy because all new cars will run on electricity. Electricity will become incredibly cheap and clean: Solar production has been on an exponential curve for 30 years, and now you can now see the burgeoning impact.

Last year, more solar energy plants were installed worldwide than fossil fuel. Energy companies are desperately trying to limit access to the grid to prevent competition from home solar installations, but that can't last. Technology will take care of that strategy.

Abundant water: With cheap electricity comes cheap and abundant water. Desalination of salt water now only needs 2kwh per cubic

A City with only electric cars.

Solar panels no power stations.

Will our future world be like this?

Desalination plants.

meter (@ 0.25 cents). Water is a renewable resource and not a scarce commodity, despite what water companies try to tell you. We don't have water shortage in most places, we only have scarce drinking water. Imagine what will be possible, if anyone can have as much clean water as he wants, for nearly no cost.

Health innovations: The Tricorder X price will be announced this year. There are companies who will build a medical device (called the "Tricorder" from Star Trek) that works with your phone, which takes your retina scan, your blood sample, and you can breath into it. It then analyses 54 biomarkers that will identify nearly any disease. It will be cheap, so in a few years everyone on this planet will have access to world class medical analysis, nearly for free.

Goodbye, medical establishments!

3D printing: The price of the cheapest 3D printer came down from $18,000 to $400 within 10 years. In the same time, it became 100 times faster. All major shoe companies have already started 3D printing shoes.

Some common spare airplane parts are already 3D printed in remote airports.

The space station now has a printer that eliminates the need for the large amount of spare parts they used to keep in the past. At the end of this year, new smart phones will have 3D scanning possibilities. You can then 3D scan your feet and print your perfect shoes at home. In China, they already 3D printed and built a complete 6-storey office building. By 2027, 10% of everything that's being produced will be 3D printed.

Business opportunities: If you think of a niche you want to go in, ask yourself: "In the future, do you think we will have that?", and if the answer is yes, how can you make that happen sooner?

If it doesn't work with your phone, forget the idea. And any idea designed for success in the 20th century is doomed to failure in the 21st century. Work: 70-80% of jobs will disappear in the next 20 years. There will be a lot of new jobs, but it is not clear if there will be enough new jobs in such a small time.

Agriculture: There will be a $100 agricultural robot in the future. Farmers in 3rd world countries can then become managers of their field instead of working all day on their fields. Aeroponics will need much less water. The first Petri dish that produced veal is now available and will be cheaper than cow produced veal in 2018. Right now, 30% of all agricultural surfaces is used for cows. Imagine if we don't need that space anymore.

There are several start-ups who will bring insect protein to the market shortly. It contains more protein than meat. It will be labelled as "alternative protein source" (because most people still reject the idea of eating insects).

There is an app called "moodies" which can already tell in which mood you're in. By 2020 there will be apps that can tell by your facial expressions, if you are lying. Imagine a political debate where it's being displayed when they're telling the truth and when they're not.

Education: The cheapest smart phones are already at $10 in Africa and Asia. By 2020, 70% of all humans will own a smart phone.

That means, everyone has the same access to world class education. Every child can use Khan academy for everything a child needs to learn at school in First World countries.

There have already been releases of software in Indonesia and soon there will be releases in Arabic, Swahili, and Chinese this summer. I can see enormous potential if we give the English app for free, so that children in Africa and everywhere else can become fluent in English.

And that could happen within half a year.

But will we be using robots to play our golf game for us when it's raining?

Sunday Drive and the Thursday Night Card Club

The February Sunday Drive Saga.

This event was planned to be held on Sunday the 4th of February.

However, on the Thursday before, we were informed by the RDC, that they had been notified by Western Power that the power would be off on that Sunday due to maintenance work and the Club had no options but to close its doors on that day. Gerry Creemers took on the task of informing everyone of that occurrence.

If anyone was not notified and came to the RDC in vain, we sincerely apologise for the inconvenience, we did our best to contact you. However, on the Monday morning, when the Billiard Club plays Snooker, we were told by one of the RDC Committee Members, that the power never went off on the Sunday at all! This incompetence by a Government Department did not only inconvenience us, but the RDC as well.

Please note that the next Sunday Drive will be held on 4 March, but the April one will be held on Sunday 8 April, not on the April 1.

Thursday Night Klaverjas Club.

On the 1st of February 2018, the Thursday Night Klaverjas Club held its Annual Meeting.

Murray Koedyk presented the Financial Report in his usual fashion, accurate and very detailed, which of course was readily accepted by the Members present.

Then Murray explained, that after many, many years of leading the Klaverjas Club, he was calling it a day and called for nominations for a Successor.

This, of course was followed by a deadly silence, until yours truly, Pieter Leeftang agreed to take on the position of Leader, with Piet Segers assisting as Treasurer and Score Master.

Pieter L said that 25 years ago he was the Secretary of the same Card Club, when they still had well over 100 Members. He thanked Murray for a job well done and the Members gave him a generous applause.

May a little bit of Humour Light up your Day

A Great Life Lesson on Stress.

A young lady confidently walked around the room with a raised glass of water, while leading a seminar on stress management to her audience. Everyone knew she was going to ask the ultimate question: "Half empty or half full?"

She fooled them all. "How heavy is this glass of water?" she inquired with a smile. Answers called out ranged from 8 oz. to 20 oz.

She replied: "The absolute weight doesn't matter.

It depends on how long I hold it. If I hold it for a minute, that's not a problem. If I hold it for an hour, I'll have an ache in my right arm. If I hold it for a day, you'll have to call an ambulance. In each case it's the same weight, but the longer I hold it, the heavier it becomes."

She continued: "And that's the way it is with stress. If we carry our stress burdens all the time, sooner or later, as the burden becomes increasingly heavy, we won't be able to carry on."

"As with the glass of water, you have to put it down for a while and rest before holding it again. When we're refreshed, we can carry on with the burden - holding stress longer and better each time practiced. So, as early in the evening as you can, put all your burdens down. Don't carry them through the evening and into the night. Pick them up again in the morning if you must."

1 * Accept the fact that some days you're the pigeon, and some days you're the statue!

2 * Always keep your words soft and sweet, just in case you have to eat them.

3 * Always read stuff that will make you look good if you die in the middle of it.

4 * Drive carefully... It's not only cars that can be recalled by their Maker.

5 * If you can't be kind, at least have the decency to be vague.

6 * If you lend someone $20 and never see that person again, it was probably worth it.

7 * It may be that your sole purpose in life is simply to serve as a warning to others.

8 * Never buy a car you can't push.

9 * Never put both feet in your mouth at the same time, because then you won't have a leg to stand on.

10 * Nobody cares if you can't dance well. Just get up and do it.

11 * Since it's the early worm that gets eaten by the bird, sleep late.

12 * The second mouse always gets the cheese.

13 * When everything's coming your way, you're in the wrong lane.

14 * Birthdays are good for you. The more you have, the longer you live.

16 * Some mistakes are too much fun to make only once.

17 * We could learn a lot from crayons. Some are sharp, some are pretty and some are dull. Some have weird names and all are different colors, but they all have to live in the same box.

18 * A truly happy person is one who can enjoy the scenery on a detour.

19 * Have an awesome day and know that someone has thought about you today.

20 * Save the earth..... It's the only planet with chocolate!

AN ACTUAL PERSONAL ADVERTISEMENT.

To the Guy Who Tried to Mug Me in Downtown Savannah the night before last.

I was the guy wearing the black Burberry jacket that you demanded that I hand over my valuables, shortly after you pulled the knife on me and my girlfriend, threatening our lives. You also asked for my girlfriend's purse and earrings. I can only hope that you somehow come across this rather important message.

First, I'd like to apologize for your embarrassment. I didn't expect you to actually crap in your pants, when I drew my pistol after you took my jacket. The evening was not that cold and I was wearing the jacket for a reason, my girlfriend was happy that I just returned safely from my 2nd tour as a Combat Marine in Afghanistan. She had just bought me that Kimber Custom Model 1911 .45 ACP pistol for my birthday and we had picked up a shoulder holster for it that very evening. Obviously you agree that it is a very intimidating weapon when pointed at your head ... isn't it?!

I know it probably wasn't fun walking back to wherever you'd come from with crap in your pants. I'm sure it was even worse, walking bare-footed since I made you leave your shoes, cell phone, and wallet with me. (That prevented you from calling or running to your buddies to come help mug us again).

After I called your mother or "Momma" as you had her listed in your cell, I explained the entire episode of what you'd done. Then I went and filled up my gas tank as well as those of four other people in the gas station, -- on your credit card. The guy with the big motor home took 153 gallons and was extremely grateful!

I gave your shoes to a homeless guy outside Vinnie Van Go Go's, along with all the cash in your wallet. [That really made his day!]

I then threw your wallet into the big pink "pimp mobile" that was parked at the curb after I broke the windshield and side window and keyed the entire driver's side of the car.

Earlier, I managed to get in two threatening phone calls to the DA's office and one to the FBI, while mentioning President Trump as my possible target.

The FBI guy seemed really intense and we had a nice long chat (I guess while he traced your number etc.).

In a way, perhaps I should apologize for not killing you... but I feel this type of retribution is a far more appropriate punishment for your threatened crime.

I wish you well as you try to sort through some of these rather immediate pressing issues, and can only hope that you have the opportunity to reflect upon, and perhaps reconsider, the career path you've chosen to pursue in life. Remember, next time you might not be so lucky.

Have a good day!

Thoughtfully yours,

Alex.

The Aquacultural Town of Yerseke

Flag and Coat of Arms of Yerseke.

The Town of Yerseke is a Village on the southern shore of the Oosterschelde (Eastern Scheldt) in the Dutch Province of Zeeland. A separate Municipality until 1970, these days it is part of the Municipality of Reimerswaal.

This fishing Town is well known for its aquaculture. Tourists visit the oyster pits, its harbors, the museums, the fishing industry, as well as the annual celebration of the “Mosseldag” (Mussel Harvest) in August.

History:

The site of Yerseke may have been inhabited for more than a millennium, and possibly since before the early Middle Ages. Skeletal remains found in 1923 during an archaeological dig, were dated to the Carolingian period(7th to 9th centuries).

However, the first historical mention of Yerseke most likely dates to a deed, or charter, issued on January 24, 966 AD under the name of ‘Gersika’ by the Holy Roman Emperor Otto I (the Great). The Town was founded on an elevated ridge in the “Moer” (tidal march) and dikes were not built until the 13th century by Monks. The earliest inhabitants practiced sheep husbandry and later extracted peat from surrounding moors after the dikes were constructed.

During World War II, the village suffered heavy damage from French naval bombardments from the Western Scheldt. The main Church was, along with much of the Town centre, almost entirely ruined. Besides the Church, twenty-five structures were completely destroyed, while an additional 36 received heavy damage, causing seventy families to become homeless.

Economy:

Agriculture remained the primary activity of the Town until the 16th century, when the Saint Felix flood inundated large parts of land with the result, that Yerseke turned from a landlocked Town, into a Town located along the shores of the Eastern Scheldt. This event would shape much of its future.

While initially the economy of Yerseke changed little, fishing and aquaculture rapidly acquired greater importance, along with a concurrent population increase, beginning in the 19th century.

Yerseke Moer:

The main natural feature of the Town is the Moer. This natural area is a former salt-water tidal marsh, separated by dikes from the sea around 1200 AD by Monks for the purposes of farming and peat extraction. Extraction has since formed the characteristic landscape of today. Rich, low-lying meadows atop a thick peat layer are interspersed by sandy creek ridges along which roads and paths have developed over the centuries. Due to large variation in soils and sand, a great variety of fauna has developed and the area has become a protected bird sanctuary. A trail guides walkers through the moor.

Outside Yerseke lies the “Moer”. This is a salt water tidal Marsh separated from the sea by dikes.

The Aquacultural Town of Yerseke

Aquaculture:

The Eastern Scheldt area is well known for the cultivation of mussels, oysters, periwinkles and lobster. Starting approximately in 1870, the Town began large-scale cultivation of oysters, partly in response to a high French demand. While the oyster industry created wealth, it also suffered many setbacks and upheavals, as well as creating social inequalities. This led to the introduction of the Pacific Oyster, now the most cultivated oyster species, which some, however, consider an invasive species.

Mussels have always been a staple food along the coast, but only at the end of the 19th century, were there concerted efforts at standardising production. Beginning approximately after the war, mussels have slowly gained ever greater economic significance and eclipsed the oyster in importance. This is manifest by the village hosting the only mussel auction in the world. In the past, mussels were caught and harvested with small sailing sloops. Today, highly advanced and much larger ships are employed, able to not only manage the harvest on the Eastern Scheldt, but sail longer distances, including to the Wadden Sea, where mussels have been seeded and harvested since about 1950, when a parasite threatened the harvest in the Eastern Scheldt. The mussels are grown and harvested entirely at sea in a mostly natural process.

Highly advanced Mussel ships.

The Harbor of Yerseke:

This has expanded continuously during the 19th century along with the fishing industry. The original harbor of Yerseke, initially a loading dock for agricultural products, was expanded to accommodate fishing boats. A larger harbour was built in 1965 and in 1981 even a much larger harbour was built which was deep enough to accommodate the largest and most modern vessels.

Free cruises on the ships.

Mosseldag:

During the third Saturday of August every year, the village celebrates the official start of the mussel harvest with the annual "Mosseldag", although these days, the season tends to begin earlier. The event attracts approximately 50,000 visitors, who come here to eat mussels, take free cruises on mussel ships, and enjoy flea markets, beer tents, parades and marching bands, as well as traditional activities in regional dress.

Magnificent Zeeland Horses.

An old tradition "Ringrijden":

Participants, ride bareback on a Zeeuws draughthorse and are usually dressed in their local costume. It rouses much interest from tourists.

Traditionally they are farmers from the area. Riding on a galloping horse, the competitor tries to stab the small ring, suspended halfway along a short designated course with a small pointed spear or a lance. When at the end of the day several participants have scored an equal number of rings, the second phase of the competition starts. From here on, anyone who misses a ring, is out of the competition.

CODEBREAKER PUZZLE

A Codebreaker is a crossword puzzle with no clues! Every letter of the alphabet has been replaced by a number. For this puzzle only the first two letters are revealed. Start with entering these letters throughout the puzzle first and then start guessing your first word or letter. Use a pencil to start, then if it does not work out, you can erase and start again. Some letters, e.g. the letter E occurs much more often than others e.g. the letters X or Z. The last Codebreaker was not too bad, the first words that I found were: Sarcasm, Smash and Chainsaw, then I was on my way to solve it. The letter code solution for last month's Codebreaker was as follows: A=3; B=2; C=4; D=24; E=5; F=6; G=10; H=21; I=17; J=12; K=14; L=18; M=19; N=8; O=26; P=1; Q=23; R=20; S=9; T=22; U=15; V=25; W=13; X=7; Y=11; Z=16.
